d/b/a San Rafael Mitsubishi (“Plaintiff San Rafael”), and Westfield Dodge City, Inc. (“Plaintiff Westfield”) (collectively “Plaintiffs”), file this Class Action Complaint on behalf of themselves and all others similarly situated (the “Classes” as defined below).

Plaintiffs bring this class action for damages, injunctive relief, and other relief pursuant to federal antitrust laws and state unjust enrichment, antitrust, unfair competition, and consumer protection laws, demand a trial by jury, and allege as follows:

NATURE OF ACTION

1. This lawsuit is brought as a proposed class action against Defendants Toyo Tire & Rubber Co., Ltd., and Toyo Automotive Parts (USA), Inc. (collectively, “Toyo” or “Defendants”) and unnamed co-conspirators, manufacturers and/or suppliers of Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products (defined below) for engaging in a long-running conspiracy to unlawfully fix, artificially raise, maintain and/or stabilize prices, rig bids for, and allocate the market and customers in the United States for Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products.

2. Plaintiffs seek to represent all automobile dealers who, during the period from and including January 1, 2006 through the present (the “Class Period”), purchased vehicles<sup>1</sup> containing one or more Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Product(s) as a component part, or indirectly purchased one or more Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Product(s) as a replacement part, which were manufactured or sold by the Defendants, any current or former subsidiary of the Defendants or any co-conspirator of the Defendants.

<sup>1</sup> “Vehicles” as used here, means any new vehicles purchased by automobile dealers throughout the United States, including but not limited to sedans, trucks and sport utility vehicles.

3. “Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products” are composed of rubber or plastic, and are used to cover the constant-velocity-joints of an automobile to protect the joints from contaminants.

4. The Defendants manufacture, market, and sell Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products throughout and into the United States. Defendants and other co-conspirators (as yet unknown) agreed, combined and conspired to fix, raise, maintain and/or stabilize prices, rig bids and allocate market shares for Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products.

5. The U.S. Department of Justice’s (“DOJ”) Antitrust Division is currently conducting a broad criminal investigation into illegal price-fixing and bid-rigging in the automotive parts industry. As part of its criminal investigation, the DOJ is seeking information about unlawful anticompetitive conduct in the market for a number of different but related automotive parts, and the Federal Bureau of Investigation (“FBI”) has participated in raids, pursuant to search warrants, carried out in the offices of a number of major competitors in the automotive parts industry. The automotive parts investigation is the largest criminal investigation the Antitrust Division has ever pursued, both in terms of its scope and the potential volume of commerce affected by the alleged illegal conduct. The ongoing cartel investigation of price-fixing and bid-rigging in the automotive parts industry has yielded more than $2.4 billion in criminal fines. The European Commission Competition Authority (“EC”) has also conducted dawn raids at the European offices of several automotive parts manufacturers.

6. On November 26, 2013, the DOJ announced that Defendant Toyo Tire & Rubber Co., Ltd. agreed to plead guilty and pay a $120 million criminal fine for its role in a conspiracy to fix prices of Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products, and another automotive part, installed in automobiles sold in the United States and elsewhere.

7. In addition to the fact that Defendant Toyo Tire & Rubber Co., Ltd. agreed to plead guilty and agreed on its own behalf and on behalf of its subsidiaries to cooperate in the DOJ's investigation, one of its high-ranking executives has pleaded guilty to criminal price-fixing in the automotive parts industry and several others have been criminally indicted. On November 21, 2003, the DOJ announced that Tetsuya Kunida, a former executive of Defendant Toyo Tire & Rubber Co., Ltd., agreed to serve 12 months and one day in a U.S. prison, and to pay a $20,000 criminal fine, and plead guilty to a one-count criminal Information for his role in a conspiracy to rig bids for, and to fix, raise, and maintain the prices of anti-vibration rubber products sold to automobile and component manufacturers in the United States and elsewhere.

8. The Defendants and their co-conspirators participated in a combination and conspiracy to suppress and eliminate competition in the automotive parts industry by agreeing to rig bids for, and to fix, stabilize, and maintain the prices of, Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products sold to automobile manufacturers and others in the United States. The combination and conspiracy engaged in by the Defendants and their co-conspirators was in unreasonable restraint of interstate and foreign trade and commerce in violation of the Sherman Antitrust Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1, and state antitrust, unfair competition, consumer protection and unjust enrichment laws.

9. As a direct result of the anti-competitive and unlawful conduct alleged herein, Plaintiffs and the Classes (as defined below) paid artificially inflated prices for Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products during the Class Period and have thereby suffered antitrust injury to their business or property.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

10. Plaintiffs bring this action under Section 16 of the Clayton Act (15 U.S.C. § 26) to secure equitable and injunctive relief against the Defendants for violating Section 1 of the Sherman Act (15 U.S.C. § 1). Plaintiffs also assert claims for actual and exemplary damages pursuant to state antitrust, unfair competition and consumer protection laws, and seek to obtain restitution, recover damages and secure other relief against the Defendants for violations of those state laws. Plaintiffs and the Classes also seek attorneys' fees, costs, and other expenses under federal and state law.

11. This Court has jurisdiction over the subject matter of this action pursuant to Section 16 of the Clayton Act (15 U.S.C. § 26), Section 1 of the Sherman Act (15 U.S.C. § 1), and Title 28, United States Code, Sections 1331 and 1337. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction of the state law claims pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1332(d) and 1367, in that: (i) this is a class action in which the matter or controversy exceeds the sum of $5,000,000, exclusive of interests and costs, and in which some members of the proposed Classes are citizens of a state different from the Defendants; and (ii) Plaintiffs' state law claims form part of the same case or controversy as their federal claims under Article III of the United States Constitution.

12. Venue is proper in this District pursuant to Section 12 of the Clayton Act (15 U.S.C. § 22), and 28 U.S.C. §§ 1391 (b), (c), and (d), because a substantial part of the events giving rise to Plaintiffs' claims occurred in this District, a substantial portion of the affected interstate trade and commerce discussed below has been carried out in this District, and the Defendants reside, are licensed to do business in, are doing business in, had agents in, or are found or transact business in this District.

13. This Court has in personam jurisdiction over the Defendants because the Defendants, either directly or through the ownership and/or control of their subsidiaries, inter alia: (a) transacted business in the United States, including in this District; (b) directly or indirectly sold or marketed substantial quantities of Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products throughout the United States, including in this District; (c) had substantial aggregate contacts with the United States as a whole, including in this District; (d) targeted customers in the United States, including in this District; or (e) were engaged in an illegal price-fixing conspiracy that was directed at, and had a direct, substantial, reasonably foreseeable and intended effect of causing injury to the business or property of persons and entities residing in, located in, or doing business throughout the United States, including in this District. The Defendants also conduct business throughout the United States, including in this District, and have purposefully availed themselves of the laws of the United States.

14. The Defendants engaged in conduct both inside and outside of the United States that caused direct, substantial and reasonably foreseeable and intended anticompetitive effects upon interstate commerce within the United States.

15. The activities of the Defendants and their co-conspirators were within the flow of, were intended to, and did have, a substantial effect on interstate commerce of the United States. The Defendants' products are sold in the flow of interstate commerce.

16. Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products manufactured abroad by the Defendants and sold for use in automobiles in the United States are goods brought into the United States for sale, and therefore constitute import commerce. To the extent any Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products are purchased in the United States, and such Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products do not constitute import commerce, the Defendants' unlawful activities with respect thereto, as more fully alleged herein during the Class Period, had, and continue to have, a direct, substantial and reasonably foreseeable effect on United States commerce. The anticompetitive conduct, and its effect on United States commerce described herein, proximately caused antitrust injury to Plaintiffs and members of the Classes in the United States.

17. By reason of the unlawful activities hereinafter alleged, the Defendants substantially affected commerce throughout the United States, causing injury to Plaintiffs and members of the Classes. The Defendants, directly and through their agents, engaged in activities affecting all states, to fix, raise, maintain and/or stabilize prices, rig bids and allocate the market and customers in the United States for Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products, which conspiracy unreasonably restrained trade and adversely affected the market for Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products.

18. The Defendants' conspiracy and wrongdoing described herein adversely affected automobile dealers in the United States.

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

E. The Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products Industry

120. “Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products” are composed of rubber or plastic, and are used to cover the constant-velocity-joints of an automobile to protect the joints from contaminants. A constant velocity universal joint boot manufactured by Defendants is shown in Figure 1 below.

121. Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products are installed by component manufacturers, otherwise known as “Tier 1 Manufacturers” onto constant-velocity-joint systems. Constant-velocity-joint systems are installed by original equipment manufacturers (“OEMs”) in new cars as part of the automotive manufacturing process. Constant-velocity joint systems are also installed by OEMs in cars to replace worn out, defective or damaged constant-velocity-joint systems.

122. Before ordering Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products, Tier 1 Manufacturers typically enter into Long Term Agreements (“LTAs”) with and/or issue requests for quotation (“RFQs”) to their suppliers. In response to the RFQs, the suppliers submit price quotes, or bids, to the Tier 1 Manufacturers.

123. The Defendants and their co-conspirators supplied Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products to Tier 1 Manufacturers, who incorporated the Automotive

Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products into constant-velocity-joint systems. The Tier1 Manufacturers then supplied constant-velocity-joint systems to OEMs for installation in vehicles manufactured and sold in the United States and elsewhere. Defendants and their co-conspirators supplied Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products to Tier 1 Manufacturers for installation in vehicles manufactured and sold in the United States and elsewhere.

124. One such Tier 1 to whom Defendants sold Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products during the Class Period, is GKN PLLC.

125. GKN PLLC's main customers include Volvo, Volkswagen, Renault-Nissan, Fiat Chrysler, GM, Ford, Toyota, Mitsubishi, BMW and Tata.

126. Plaintiffs and members of the proposed Classes purchased Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products indirectly from the Defendants. By way of example, a dealership may indirectly purchase one or more Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Product(s) from the Defendants as part of purchasing a new vehicle. A dealership may also indirectly purchase for replacement one or more Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Product(s) from the Defendants when repairing a damaged vehicle or where one or more of the vehicle's Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Product(s) are defective.

127. Replacement Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products sold to dealerships through OEMs are the same as the Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products installed in vehicles and are made by the same manufacturer who made the Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products originally installed—that is the purpose of an OEM part, made by the OEM supplier. Such replacement parts are not the same as aftermarket parts, which are made by different manufacturers than those who manufactured the original parts. The prices of replacement Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products were inflated by Defendants' collusion.

F. The Structure and Characteristics of the Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products Market Render the Conspiracy More Plausible

128. The structure and other characteristics of the Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products market in the United States are conducive to a price-fixing agreement, and have made collusion particularly attractive in this market. Specifically, the Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products market: (1) has high barriers to entry; and (2) has inelasticity of demand.

1. The Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products Market Has High Barriers to Entry

129. A collusive arrangement that raises product prices above competitive levels would, under basic economic principles, attract new entrants seeking to benefit from the supra-competitive pricing. Where, however, there are significant barriers to entry, new entrants are less likely. Thus, barriers to entry help to facilitate the formation and maintenance of a cartel.

130. There are substantial barriers that preclude, reduce, or make more difficult entry into the Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products market. A new entrant into the business would face costly and lengthy start-up costs, including multi-million dollar costs associated with manufacturing plants and equipment, energy, transportation, distribution infrastructure, and long-standing customer relationships.

131. Likewise, any competitor needs advanced engineering and technological prowess in order to design a competitive Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Product.

132. The Defendants own several patents related to the manufacture of Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products. These patents place a significant and costly burden on potential new entrants, who must avoid infringing on the patents when entering the market with a new product.

133. In addition, customers cannot change Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products suppliers randomly after a supplier is initially selected because the OEMs design the features of their vehicles so that the Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products are then integrated with the other components the vehicle. Thus, the design must be synergized. It would be difficult for a new market entrant to do so.

2. There is Inelasticity of Demand for Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products

134. “Elasticity” is a term used to describe the sensitivity of supply and demand to changes in one or the other. For example, demand is said to be “inelastic” if an increase in the price of a product results in only a small decline in the quantity sold of that product, if any. In other words, customers have nowhere to turn for alternative, cheaper products of similar quality, and so continue to purchase despite a price increase.

135. For a cartel to profit from raising prices above competitive levels, demand must be relatively inelastic at competitive prices. Otherwise, increased prices would result in declining sales, revenues, and profits, as customers purchased substitute products or declined to buy altogether. Inelastic demand is a market characteristic that facilitates collusion, allowing producers to raise their prices without triggering customer substitution and lost sales revenue.

136. Demand for Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products is highly inelastic because there are no close substitutes for these products. In addition, customers must purchase Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products as an essential part of a vehicle, even if the prices are kept at a supra-competitive level.

G. Government Investigations

137. A globally coordinated antitrust investigation is taking place in the United States, Europe, and Japan, aimed at suppliers of automotive parts. A Japan Fair Trade Commission (“JFTC”) official told a leading legal publication that automotive parts supplier investigations by the JFTC, DOJ and EC would continue to widen because the automotive industry as a whole comprises many sub-industries. He characterized the investigations being conducted by the U.S., European and Japanese antitrust authorities as “large and broad,” and he declined to deny that this “would be history’s largest case.”

138. The probe originated in Europe as the result of several European OEMs coming together to bring a complaint to the European Commission (“EC”). The EC and the FBI have executed surprise raids at the European and U.S. offices of several auto parts manufacturers as part of an investigation into anticompetitive conduct related to the manufacturing and sale of automotive parts.

139. On February 8, 2010, the EC executed surprise raids at the European offices of certain automotive parts makers.

140. The DOJ Antitrust Division’s broad criminal investigation into illegal price-fixing and bid-rigging in the automotive parts industry is the largest criminal investigation the Antitrust Division has ever pursued. The ongoing cartel investigation of price-fixing and bid-rigging in the automobile parts industry has yielded more than $2.4 billion in criminal fines.

141. On November 26, 2013, the DOJ announced that Defendant Toyo Tire & Rubber Co., Ltd. agreed to plead guilty and pay a $120 million criminal fine for its role in a conspiracy to fix prices of Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products, and another automotive part, installed in automobiles sold in the United States and elsewhere. Toyo and its co-conspirators entered into and engaged in a combination and conspiracy to suppress and eliminate competition by agreeing to allocate sales of, and to fix, raise, and maintain the prices of Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products sold in the United States and elsewhere from at least as early as January 2006 and continuing until as late as September 2010 in violation of the Sherman Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1.

142. According to the Information filed, Defendant Toyo and its co-conspirators carried out the Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products conspiracy by:

(a) participating in meetings and engaging in discussions concerning prices for Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products sold to GKN plc and its subsidiaries (collectively, “GKN”) in the United States and elsewhere;

(b) agreeing during those meetings and discussions to allocate among the companies certain sales of certain Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products sold to GKN in the United States and elsewhere;

(c) agreeing, during those meetings, conversations, and communications, on prices to be submitted to GKN in the United States and elsewhere;

(d) discussing and exchanging prices for certain Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products sold to GKN in the United States and elsewhere;

(e) submitting bids and price quotations to GKN in the United States and elsewhere in accordance with the agreements;

(f) selling Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products<sup>2</sup> to GKN in the United States and elsewhere at collusive and noncompetitive prices; and

(g) accepting payment for Automotive Constant-Velocity Joint Boot Products<sup>3</sup> sold to GKN in the United States and elsewhere at collusive and noncompetitive prices.

D. Guilty Pleas and Other Criminal Pleadings Arising From the Automotive Parts Investigation

143. On September 29, 2011, the DOJ announced that Furukawa Electric Co. Ltd. had agreed to plead guilty and to pay a $200 million criminal fine for its role in a criminal price-fixing and bid rigging conspiracy involving the sale of automotive wire harnesses and related products to automobile manufacturers.

144. Three of Furukawa's executives also pleaded guilty to the same conspiracy. The court sentenced two of the executives to 15 and 18 month prison sentences, to be served in the United States.

145. In the press release announcing the fine against Furukawa Electric Co. Ltd., Sharis A Pozen, then the Acting Assistant Attorney General in charge of the DOJ's Antitrust division, said that "[a]s a result of this international price-fixing and bid-rigging conspiracy, automobile manufacturers paid noncompetitive and higher prices for parts in cars sold to U.S. consumers." Ms. Pozen also stated that "[t]his cartel harmed an important industry in our nation's economy, and the Antitrust Division with the Federal Bureau of Investigation will continue to work together to ensure that these kinds of conspiracies are stopped." The press release also quoted FBI's Special Agent in Charge Andrew G. Arena, who said that "[w]hen companies partner to control and price fix bids or contracts, it undermines the foundation of the United States' economic system," and that "[t]he FBI is committed to aggressively pursuing any company involved in antitrust crimes."

146. On January 30, 2012, the DOJ announced that Yazaki Corporation ("Yazaki") and DENSO Corporation ("DENSO") had agreed to plead guilty and to pay a total of $548 million in criminal fines for their involvement in multiple price-fixing and bid-rigging conspiracies in the sale of automotive parts to automotive manufacturers in the United States. According to the three-count felony charge against Yazaki, it engaged in the following three conspiracies: (1) participating in a combination and conspiracy with its co-conspirators to suppress and eliminate competition in the automotive parts industry by agreeing to rig bids for, and to fix, stabilize, and maintain the prices of, automotive wire harnesses and related products sold to automobile manufacturers in the United States and elsewhere from at least as early as January 2000 and continuing until at least February 2010 in violation of the Sherman Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1; (2) participating in a combination and conspiracy to suppress and eliminate competition in the automotive parts industry by agreeing to rig bids for, and to fix, stabilize, and maintain the prices of, instrument panel clusters sold to automobile manufacturers in the United States and elsewhere, from at least as early as December 2002 until at least February 2010, in violation of the Sherman Antitrust Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1; and (3) participating in a combination and conspiracy with its co-conspirators to suppress and eliminate competition in the automotive parts industry by agreeing to rig bids for, and to fix, stabilize, and maintain the prices of fuel senders sold to automobile manufacturers in the United States and elsewhere from at least as early as March 2004 and continuing until at least February 2010 in violation of the Sherman Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1.

147. According to the two-count felony charge against DENSO, it engaged in conspiracies to rig bids for and to fix, stabilize, and maintain the prices of electric control units and heater control panels.

148. In addition to Yazaki, five executives from Yazaki (all Japanese nationals) – Tsuneaki Hanamura, Ryoji Kawai, Shigeru Ogawa, Kazuhiko Kashimoto and Hisamitsu Takada – pleaded guilty to their participation in a conspiracy to suppress and eliminate competition in the automotive parts industry by agreeing to rig bids for, and to fix, stabilize, and maintain the prices of automotive wire harnesses sold to automobile manufacturers in the United States and elsewhere in violation of the Sherman Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1. These five Yazaki executives will each pay a $20,000 criminal fine and serve prison time ranging from 15 months to two years. The two-year sentences would be the longest term of imprisonment imposed on a foreign national voluntarily submitting to U.S. jurisdiction for a Sherman Act antitrust violation.

149. On March 26, 2012, the DOJ announced that Norihiro Imai, an executive of Defendant DENSO Corporation, agreed to serve one year and one day in a U.S. prison, pay a $20,000 criminal fine, and plead guilty to a one-count criminal Information charging him with engaging in a conspiracy to rig bids for, and to fix, stabilize, and maintain the prices of heater control panels sold to customers in the United States.

150. On April 26, 2012, the DOJ announced that Makoto Hattori, another executive of Defendant DENSO Corporation, agreed to serve fourteen months in a U.S. prison, pay a $20,000 criminal fine, and plead guilty to a one-count criminal Information charging him with engaging in a conspiracy to rig bids for, and to fix, stabilize, and maintain the prices of heater control panels sold to a customer in the United States and elsewhere.

151. On May 21, 2013, the DOJ announced that Yuji Suzuki, yet another executive of Defendant DENSO Corporation, agreed to serve sixteen months in a U.S. prison, pay a $20,000 criminal fine, and plead guilty to a two-count criminal Information for his role in a conspiracy to rig bids for, and to fix, stabilize, and maintain the prices of electronic control units and heater control panels sold in the United States and elsewhere.

152. In the press release announcing the fines against Yazaki and DENSO, FBI Special Agent in Charge Andrew G. Arena said that “[t]his criminal activity has a significant impact on the automotive manufacturers in the United States, Canada, Japan and Europe and has been occurring for at least a decade. The conduct had also affected commerce on a global scale in almost every market where automobiles are manufactured and/or sold[.]”

153. “When companies partner to control and price fix bids or contracts, it undermines the foundation of the United States’ economic system,” Arena also said. “The FBI is committed to aggressively pursuing any company involved in antitrust crimes.”

154. A number of additional companies have pleaded guilty to fixing the prices of automotive parts, including, among others: automotive wire harnesses; instrument panel clusters; fuel senders; heater control panels; occupant safety restraint systems; automotive bearings; windshield wipers; starters; radiators; alternators; ignition coils; anti-vibration rubber parts, automatic transmission fluid warmers; switches; steering angle sensors; HID ballasts; and automotive lamps. These companies include, among others: Fujikura Ltd.; GS Electech, Inc.; TRW Deutschland Holding GmbH; Autoliv, Inc.; Nippon Seiki Co., Ltd.; JTEKT Corporation; Mitsuba Corporation; Mitsubishi Electric Corporation; Mitsubishi Heavy Industries, Ltd.; NSK Ltd.; Panasonic Corporation; T. RAD Co., Ltd.; Tokai Rika Co.; Valeo Japan Co., Ltd.; Yamashita Rubber Co., Ltd.; and Bridgestone Corporation. The majority of these violators pleaded guilty to engaging in bid-rigging, price-fixing, and market allocation during the same time period as the Defendants with multiple OEMs as their targets, including, among others, Suzuki, Honda, Mazda, Mitsubishi, Subaru, Chrysler, German manufacturers and unnamed automobile manufacturers.

155. On April 3, 2012, the DOJ announced that G.S. Electech, Inc. had agreed to plead guilty and to pay a $2.75 million criminal fine for its role in a conspiracy to rig bids for, and to fix, stabilize, and maintain the prices of, speed sensor wire assemblies used on antilock brake systems sold to an automobile manufacturer in the United States and elsewhere.

156. On April 23, 2012, the DOJ announced that Fujikura Ltd. had agreed to plead guilty and to pay a $20 million criminal fine for its role in a conspiracy to rig bids for, and to fix, stabilize, and maintain the prices of, automotive wire harnesses and related products sold to an automobile manufacturer in the United States and elsewhere.

157. On June 6, 2012, the DOJ announced that Autoliv Inc. had agreed to plead guilty to a two-count criminal Information and to pay a $14.5 million criminal fine for its involvement in a combination and conspiracy to suppress competition in the automotive parts industry by (i) agreeing to rig bids for, and to fix, stabilize, and maintain the prices of, certain seatbelts sold to a Japanese automobile manufacturer; and (ii) agreeing to rig bids for, and to fix, stabilize, and maintain the prices of, certain seatbelts, airbags, and/or steering wheels sold to a Japanese automobile manufacturer.

158. On July 30, 2012, the DOJ announced that TRW Deutschland Holding GmbH had agreed to plead guilty and to pay a $5.1 million criminal fine for its involvement in a combination and conspiracy, through its employees, including high level employees of its wholly-owned subsidiaries, to suppress and eliminate competition in the automotive parts industry by agreeing to rig bids for, and to fix, stabilize, and maintain the prices of seatbelts, airbags and steering wheels sold to two German automobile manufacturers in the United States and elsewhere.

159. On August 28, 2012, the DOJ announced that Nippon Seiki Co. Ltd. had agreed to plead guilty and to pay a $1 million criminal fine for its involvement in a combination and conspiracy to suppress competition in the automotive parts industry by agreeing to rig bids for, and to fix, stabilize, and maintain the prices of, instrument panel clusters sold to an automobile manufacturer in the United States and elsewhere.

160. On October 30, 2012, the DOJ announced that Tokai Rika Co. Ltd. agreed to plead guilty and to pay a $17.7 million criminal fine for its involvement in a conspiracy to rig bids for, and to fix, stabilize, and maintain the prices of, HCPs sold to Toyota Motor Corporation and Toyota Motor Engineering & Manufacturing North America, Inc. in the United States and elsewhere. Tokai Rika also agreed to plead guilty to a charge of obstruction of justice related to the investigation of the antitrust violation.

161. On February 15, 2013, Scott Hammond, the Deputy Assistant Attorney General in the Antitrust Division, discussed the DOJ's ongoing automotive parts investigation in a Thomson Reuters article. He said "[t]he investigation is broader than what we've announced so far . . . . [The investigation] is still very much ongoing, but it already appears to be the biggest criminal antitrust investigation that we've ever encountered. I say the biggest with respect to the impact on U.S. businesses and consumers, and the number of companies and executives that are subject to the investigation." (emphasis added).

162. On July 10, 2013, the European Commission fined four wire harness suppliers, Yazaki, S-Y Systems, Furukawa Electric and Leoni, a total of $182 million for taking part in cartels that affected Toyota, Nissan, Honda and Renault.

163. On July 16, 2013, the DOJ announced that Diamond Electric Mfg. Co. Ltd. had agreed to plead guilty and to pay a $19 million criminal fine for its involvement in a combination and conspiracy to suppress competition in the automotive parts industry by agreeing to rig bids for, and to fix, stabilize, and maintain the prices of, ignition coils sold to automobile manufacturers in the United States and elsewhere.

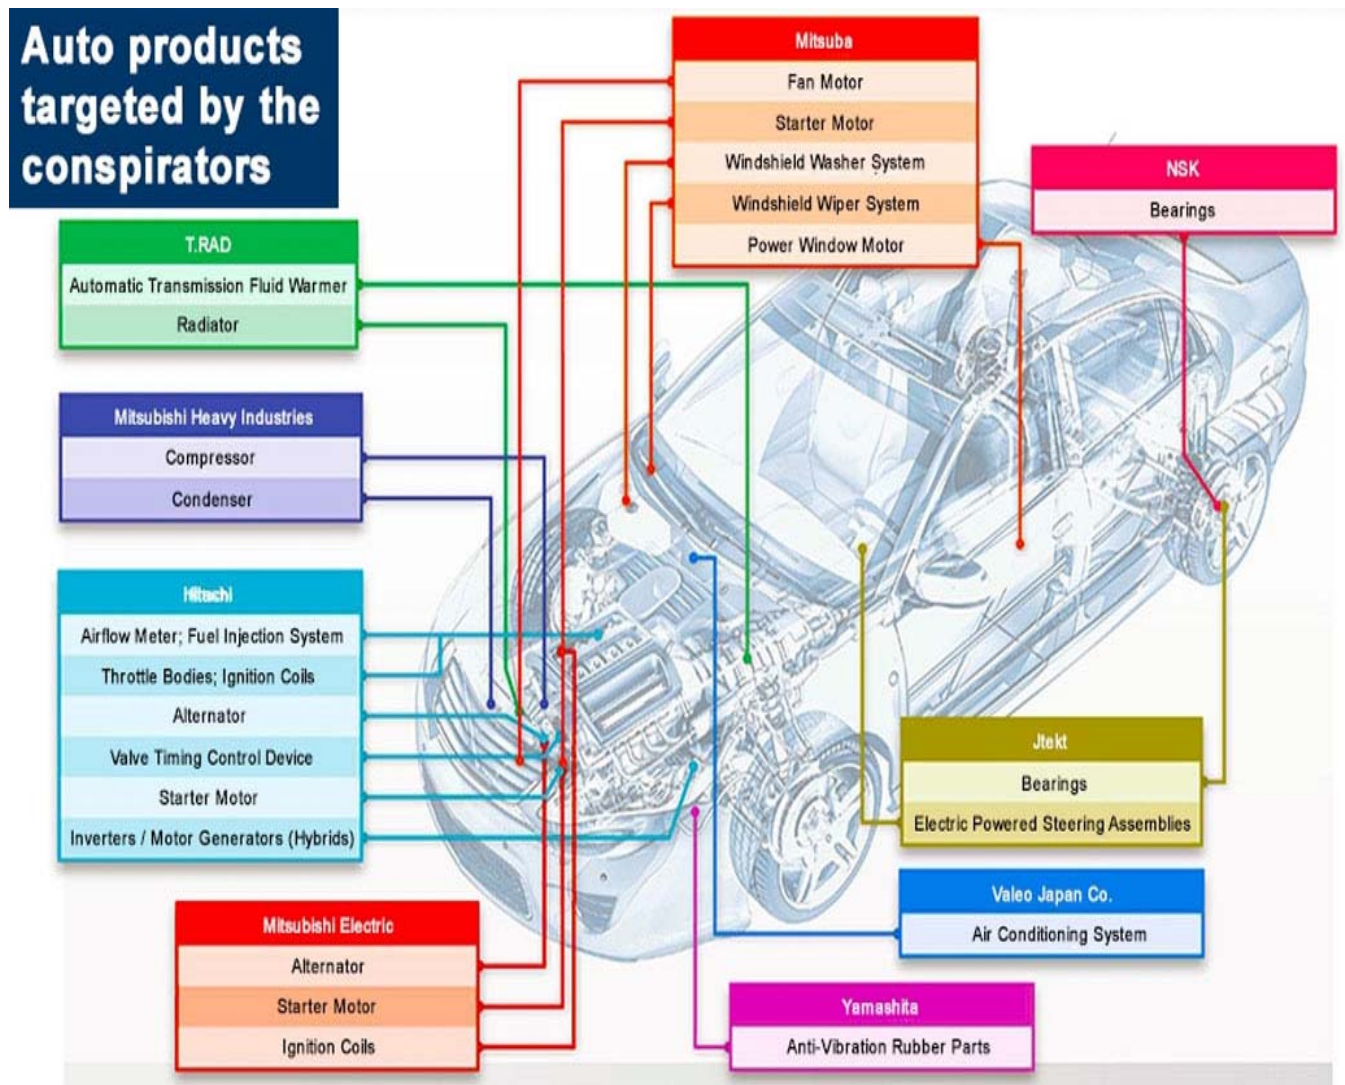

164. On July 18, 2013, Panasonic Corporation agreed to plead guilty and to pay a $45.8 million criminal fine for its role in a conspiracy to fix prices of various automotive parts including high intensity discharge (HID) ballasts, switches and steering angle sensors installed in automobiles sold in the United States and elsewhere.

165. On September 11, 2013, two Fujikura, Ltd. executives were indicted for conspiring to fix the price of wire harness assemblies to Fuji Heavy Industries, the maker of Subaru automobiles.

166. On September 26, 2013, nine additional Japanese automotive suppliers and two more executives agreed to plead guilty to conspiracy charges and pay more than $740 million in fines for their roles in rigging the prices of 30 products.

167. The diagram below, which was prepared by the DOJ, illustrates the guilty pleas announced September 26, 2013, and the corresponding automotive parts to which the various manufacturers admitted to price-fixing.

168. On October 9, 2013, Takata Corporation announced that it had agreed to pay $71.3 million to settle antitrust charges brought by the United States federal prosecutors for its part in a conspiracy to price-fix seatbelts.

169. On November 26, 2013, the DOJ announced that Defendant Toyo Tire & Rubber Co. Ltd. had agreed to plead guilty and to pay a $120 million criminal fine for its role in two separate conspiracies to fix the prices of automotive components involving anti-vibration rubber and Constant-Velocity-Joint Boots installed in automobiles sold in the United States and elsewhere.

170. On November 27, 2013, Stanley Electric Co. Ltd. agreed to pay a $1.44 million criminal fine and plead guilty to price-fixing allegations involving high-intensity discharge (HID) lamp ballasts sold to automakers in the United States and elsewhere.

Ltd. agreed to pay a $56.6 million criminal fine and plead guilty for its roles in separate price-fixing conspiracies involving automobile lighting fixtures and automotive high-intensity discharge (HID) lamp ballasts installed in cars sold in the United States and elsewhere.

173. On February 13, 2014, Bridgestone Corp. agreed to pay a $425 million criminal fine and plead guilty for its role in a conspiracy to fix prices of automotive anti-vibration rubber parts.

174. On February 20, 2014, the DOJ announced that Kazuaki Fujutani, a former executive of Defendant DENSO Corporation, agreed to serve one year and one day in a U.S. prison and plead guilty to a one-count criminal Information charging him with obstruction of justice for deleting numerous e-mails and electronic documents upon learning the FBI was executing a search warrant on Defendant DENSO International America, Inc., in connection with the DOJ's investigation into a conspiracy to fix the prices of heater control panels installed in automobiles sold in the United States and elsewhere.

175. On April 23, 2014, Showa Corp. agreed to pay a $19.9 million criminal fine and plead guilty for its role in a conspiracy to fix prices of pinion-assist type electric powered steering assemblies.

176. On August 19, 2014, the DOJ announced that NGK Sparkplug Co. Ltd. agreed to plead guilty and to pay a $52.1 million criminal fine for its role in a conspiracy to fix prices and rig bids for spark plugs, standard oxygen sensors, and air fuel ratio sensors installed in cars sold to automobile manufacturers in the United States and elsewhere.

177. On September 29, 2014, the DOJ announced that Toyoda Gosei Co. Ltd. agreed to plead guilty and to pay a $26 million criminal fine for its involvement in a combination and conspiracy to suppress competition in the automotive parts industry by agreeing to allocate sales of, to rig bids for, and to fix, stabilize, and maintain the prices of certain automotive hoses sold to Toyota in the United States and by agreeing to allocate sales of, to rig bids for, and to fix, stabilize, and maintain the prices of, automotive airbags and steering wheels sold to Subaru and Toyota in the United States and elsewhere.

178. On October 31, 2014, the DOJ announced that Hitachi Metals Ltd. agreed to plead guilty and to pay a $1.25 million criminal fine for its role in a conspiracy to allocate the sales of, to rig bids for, and to fix, raise, and maintain the prices of automotive brake hose sold to Toyota in the United States and elsewhere.

179. On November 13, 2014, the DOJ announced that Aisin Seiki Co. Ltd. agreed to plead guilty and to pay a $35.8 million criminal fine for its role in a conspiracy to allocate customers of variable valve timing devices installed in cars sold to automobile manufacturers in the United States and elsewhere.

181. To date, thirty-two companies and forty-eight executives have been charged in the Antitrust Division's ongoing investigation into price fixing and bid rigging in the auto parts industry. Each of the thirty-two companies have either pleaded guilty or have agreed to plead guilty and have agreed to pay approximately $2.4 billion in criminal fines.

182. The U.S. government has said its automotive parts cartel criminal investigation will continue and other suppliers could be charged.

E. Likely Existence of an "Amnesty Applicant."

183. The Antitrust Criminal Penalty Enhancement and Reform Act ("ACPERA") provides leniency benefits for a participant in a price-fixing conspiracy that voluntarily discloses its conduct to the Department of Justice. In most recent cases in which guilty pleas for price-fixing conduct have been obtained, there has been a cooperating party that has been accepted into the DOJ's ACPERA program as an "amnesty applicant." One of the leniency benefits for a conspirator that is accepted into the ACPERA program is that it is not charged with a criminal offense and is not required to plead guilty to criminal charges.

184. In light of the guilty plea in this case, guilty pleas in related automotive parts antitrust cases and the DOJ's ongoing investigation into the industry, it is reasonable for this Court to infer that there is an ACPERA "amnesty applicant" in this case.

F. Damage to Plaintiffs and Other Automobile Dealers Caused by Defendants' Illegal Activities

185. Defendants' conspiracy resulted in Defendants charging inflated prices to firms who directly purchased Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products from them and in those purchasers raising their prices to subsequent purchasers.

186. Having paid higher prices for components of the cars they sold to Plaintiffs and the Classes and the Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products they sold to Plaintiffs and the Classes, firms who sold such Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products and vehicles passed Defendants' overcharges on to Plaintiffs and the Classes.

187. Plaintiffs and the Classes are entitled to the overcharges they paid for Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products.

188. Plaintiffs have standing and have suffered damage compensable by indirect purchaser laws and they and members of the classes they seek to represent have sustained significant damage and injury as a result of Defendants' conspiracy.

CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

189. Plaintiffs bring this action on behalf of themselves and as a class action under Rule 23(a) and (b)(2) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, seeking equitable and injunctive relief on behalf of the following class (the "Nationwide Class"):

All automobile dealers that, during the Class Period, (a) indirectly purchased Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products manufactured or sold by a Defendant or any current or former subsidiary or affiliate thereof or any co-conspirator, or (b) purchased vehicles containing Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products manufactured or sold by a Defendant or any current or former subsidiary, affiliate thereof or co-conspirator.

190. Plaintiffs also bring this action on behalf of themselves and as a class action under Rule 23(a) and (b)(3) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure seeking damages pursuant to the antitrust, unfair competition, unjust enrichment, and consumer protection laws of the states whose laws are set forth in the Second and Third Claims below, as well as the unjust enrichment laws of Missouri, Massachusetts and Illinois. The states whose laws are set forth in the Second and Third Claims below, as well as Missouri, Massachusetts, and Illinois, are collectively referred to as the "Indirect Purchaser States." These claims are brought by Plaintiffs on behalf of themselves and entities in the Indirect Purchaser States listed in the Second, Third and Fourth Claims as follows (the "Damages Class"):

All automobile dealers, in the Indirect Purchaser States, that, during the Class Period (a) indirectly purchased Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products manufactured or sold by one of the Defendants or any current or former subsidiary or affiliate thereof, or any co-conspirator or (b) purchased vehicles containing Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products manufactured or sold by one of the Defendants or any current or former subsidiary, affiliate or co-conspirator thereof.

191. The Nationwide Class and the Damages Class are referred to herein as the “Classes.” Excluded from the Classes are the Defendants, their parent companies, subsidiaries and affiliates, any co-conspirators, federal governmental entities and instrumentalities of the federal government, states and their subdivisions, agencies and instrumentalities, any judicial officer presiding over this matter, persons who purchased Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products directly, and persons in the End-Payor Class, as defined in the End-Payor complaint.

192. While Plaintiffs do not know the exact number of the members of the Classes, Plaintiffs believe there are (at least) thousands of members in each Class.

193. Common questions of law and fact exist as to all members of the Classes. This is particularly true given the nature of the Defendants’ and their co-conspirators’ conspiracy, which was generally applicable to all the members of both Classes, thereby making appropriate relief with respect to the Classes as a whole. Such questions of law and fact common to the Classes include, but are not limited to:

- (a) Whether the Defendants and their co-conspirators engaged in a combination and conspiracy among themselves to fix, raise, maintain or stabilize the prices of Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products sold in the United States;
- (b) The identity of the participants of the alleged conspiracy;
- (c) The duration of the alleged conspiracy and the acts carried out by the Defendants and their co-conspirators in furtherance of the conspiracy;

- (d) Whether the alleged conspiracy violated the Sherman Act, as alleged in the First Claim for Relief;
- (e) Whether the alleged conspiracy violated state antitrust and unfair competition law, and/or state consumer protection law, as alleged in the Second and Third Claims for Relief;
- (f) Whether the Defendants unjustly enriched themselves to the detriment of the Plaintiffs and the members of the Classes, thereby entitling Plaintiffs and the members of the Classes to disgorgement of all benefits derived by the Defendants, as alleged in the Fourth Claim for Relief;
- (g) Whether the conduct of the Defendants and their co-conspirators, as alleged in this Complaint, caused injury to the business or property of Plaintiffs and the members of the Classes;
- (h) The effect of the alleged conspiracy on the prices of Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products sold in the United States during the Class Period;
- (i) Whether Plaintiffs and the members of the Classes had any reason to know or suspect the conspiracy, or any means to discover the conspiracy;
- (j) Whether the Defendants and their co-conspirators fraudulently concealed the conspiracy's existence from Plaintiffs and the members of the Classes;
- (k) The appropriate injunctive and related equitable relief for the Nationwide Class; and
- (l) The appropriate class-wide measure of damages for the Damages Class.

194. Plaintiffs' claims are typical of the claims of the members of the Classes, and Plaintiffs will fairly and adequately protect the interests of the Classes. Plaintiffs and all members of the Classes are similarly affected by the Defendants' wrongful conduct in that they paid artificially inflated prices for Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products purchased indirectly from the Defendants and/or their co-conspirators.

195. Plaintiffs' claims arise out of the same common course of conduct giving rise to the claims of the other members of the Classes. Plaintiffs' interests are coincident with, and not antagonistic to, those of the other members of the Classes. Plaintiffs are represented by counsel who are competent and experienced in the prosecution of antitrust and class action litigation.

196. The questions of law and fact common to the members of the Classes predominate over any questions affecting only individual members, including legal and factual issues relating to liability and damages.

197. Class action treatment is a superior method for the fair and efficient adjudication of the controversy, in that, among other things, such treatment will permit a large number of similarly situated persons to prosecute their common claims in a single forum simultaneously, efficiently and without the unnecessary duplication of evidence, effort and expense that numerous individual actions would engender. The benefits of proceeding through the class mechanism, including providing injured persons or entities with a method for obtaining redress for claims that might not be practicable to pursue individually, substantially outweigh any difficulties that may arise in the management of this class action.

198. The prosecution of separate actions by individual members of the Classes would create a risk of inconsistent or varying adjudications, establishing incompatible standards of conduct for the Defendants.

PLAINTIFFS AND THE CLASSES SUFFERED ANTITRUST INJURY

199. The Defendants' price-fixing conspiracy had the following effects, among others:
- (a) Price competition has been restrained or eliminated with respect to Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products;
  - (b) The prices of Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products have been fixed, raised, maintained, or stabilized at artificially inflated levels;
  - (c) Indirect purchasers of Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products have been deprived of free and open competition;
  - (d) Defendants charged direct purchasers of their Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products inflated prices as a result of their conspiracy;

- (e) Having paid higher prices for components of the cars they sold to Plaintiffs and the Classes and the Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products they sold to Plaintiffs and the Classes, firms who sold Defendants' Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products and vehicles to Plaintiffs and the Classes passed Defendants' overcharges on to them;
- (f) Defendants' overcharges passed through each level of distribution as they traveled to Plaintiffs and the Classes;
- (g) Automobile dealers purchasing Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products and vehicles containing Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products have been deprived of free and open competition; and
- (h) Indirect purchasers of Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products paid artificially inflated prices.

200. During the Class Period, Plaintiffs and the members of the Classes paid supracompetitive prices for Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products, as a result of the Defendants' conspiracy.

201. An increase in the prices of Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products caused an increase in the price of vehicles during the class period.

202. Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products comprise a significant portion of the price of a vehicle.

203. The markets for Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products and vehicles are inextricably linked and intertwined because the market for Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products exists to serve the vehicle market. Without the vehicles, the Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products have little to no value because they have no independent utility. Indeed, the demand for vehicles creates the demand for Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products. As stated in the 2010 Annual Report of Lear Corporation, an automobile parts supplier: "Our sales are driven by the number of vehicles produced by the automotive manufacturers, which is ultimately dependent on consumer fleet demand for automotive vehicles.”

204. Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products are identifiable, discrete physical products that remain essentially unchanged when incorporated into a vehicle. As a result, Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products follow a traceable physical chain of distribution from the Defendants to Plaintiffs and the members of the Classes, and any costs attributable to Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products can be traced through the chain of distribution to Plaintiffs and the members of the Classes.

205. Just as Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products can be physically traced through the supply chain, so can their price be traced to show that changes in the prices paid by direct purchasers of Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products affect prices paid by indirect purchasers of new motor vehicles containing Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products and Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products purchased for repair purposes.

206. Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products have their own part numbers, which permit them to be tracked.

207. Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products can be removed from a finished vehicle and replaced.

208. The Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products subject to the Defendants’ conspiracy and at issue in this lawsuit only have one use: to be inserted into vehicles. Whether Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products are sold by themselves or in vehicles, their purpose is to be inserted into vehicles.

209. The purpose of the conspiratorial conduct of the Defendants and their co-conspirators was to raise, fix, rig or stabilize the price of Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products and, as a direct and foreseeable result, the price of new motor vehicles containing Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products and the price of Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products purchased for repair purposes. Economists have developed techniques to isolate and understand the relationship between one “explanatory” variable and a “dependent” variable in those cases when changes in the dependent variable are explained by changes in a multitude of variables, even when all such variables may be changing simultaneously. That analysis - called regression analysis - is commonly used in the real world and in litigation to determine the impact of a price increase on one cost in a product (or service) that is an assemblage of costs. Thus, an economist can isolate and identify only the impact of an increase in the price of Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products on prices for new motor vehicles even though such products contain a number of other components whose prices may be changing over time. A regression model can explain how variation in the price of Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products affects changes in the price of new motor vehicles. In such models, the price of Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products would be treated as an independent or explanatory variable. The model can isolate how changes in the price of Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products impact the price of new motor vehicles containing Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products while controlling for the impact of other price-determining factors.

210. The precise amount of the overcharge impacting the prices of new motor vehicles containing Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products can be measured and quantified. Commonly used and well-accepted economic models can be used to measure both the extent and the amount of the supracompetitive charge passed through the chain of distribution. Thus, the economic harm to Plaintiffs and class members can be quantified.

211. By reason of the violations of the antitrust law alleged herein, Plaintiffs and the members of the Classes have sustained injury to their businesses or property, having paid higher prices for Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products than they would have paid in the absence of the Defendants' and their co-conspirators' illegal contract, combination, or conspiracy, and, as a result, have suffered damages in an amount presently undetermined. This is an antitrust injury of the type that the antitrust laws were meant to punish and prevent, and Plaintiffs' and Class members' damages are measurable.

PLAINTIFFS' CLAIMS ARE NOT BARRED BY THE STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS

A. The Statute of Limitations Did Not Begin to Run Because Plaintiffs Did Not And Could Not Discover Their Claims

212. Plaintiffs repeat and re-allege the allegations set forth above.

213. Plaintiffs and the members of the Classes had no knowledge of the combination or conspiracy alleged herein, or of facts sufficient to place them on inquiry notice of the claims set forth herein, until (at the earliest) November 26, 2013, the date that the DOJ publicly announced Defendant Toyo Tire & Rubber Co., Ltd.'s anticipated guilty plea.

214. Plaintiffs and the members of the Classes are indirect purchasers who purchased automobiles or purchased Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products to replace or repair damaged or defective Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products in their automobiles. They had no direct contact or interaction with the Defendants in this case and had no means from which they could have discovered the combination and conspiracy described in this Complaint before November 26, 2013, the date that the DOJ publicly announced Defendant Toyo Tire & Rubber Co., Ltd.'s anticipated guilty plea.

215. No information in the public domain was available to the Plaintiffs and the members of the Classes prior to November 26, 2013, the date that the DOJ publicly announced Defendant Toyo Tire & Rubber Co., Ltd.'s anticipated guilty plea, that revealed sufficient information to suggest that the Defendants were involved in a criminal conspiracy to price-fix and rig bids for Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products. Plaintiffs and the members of the Classes had no means of obtaining any facts or information concerning any aspect of the Defendants' dealings with OEMs or other direct purchasers, much less the fact that they and their co-conspirators had engaged in the combination and conspiracy alleged herein.

216. For these reasons, the statute of limitations as to Plaintiffs' and the Classes' claims did not begin to run, and has been tolled with respect to the claims that Plaintiffs and the members of the Classes have alleged in this Complaint.

B. Fraudulent Concealment Tolled the Statute of Limitations

217. In the alternative, application of the doctrine of fraudulent concealment tolled the statute of limitations on the claims asserted herein by Plaintiffs and the Classes. Plaintiffs and the members of the Classes did not discover, and could not discover through the exercise of reasonable diligence, the existence of the conspiracy alleged herein until November 26, 2013, the date that the DOJ publicly announced Defendant Toyo Tire & Rubber Co., Ltd.'s anticipated guilty plea.

218. Because the Defendants' agreements, understandings, and conspiracies were kept secret until November 26, 2013, Plaintiffs and members of the Classes were unaware before that time of the Defendants' unlawful conduct, and they did not know before then that they were paying supracompetitive prices for Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products throughout the United States during the Class Period. No information, actual or constructive, was ever made available to Plaintiffs and the members of the Classes that indicated to Plaintiffs that they were being injured by the Defendants' unlawful conduct.

219. The affirmative acts of the Defendants alleged herein, including acts in furtherance of the conspiracy, were wrongfully concealed and carried out in a manner that precluded detection.

220. Defendants had secret communications to collusively fix prices, rig bids, and allocate markets for Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products.

221. Defendants also concealed their conspiracy by submitting bids to customers, to give the appearance of competition, despite having already determined among themselves who would win each bid.

222. By its very nature, the Defendants' and their co-conspirators' anticompetitive conspiracy was inherently self-concealing. Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products are not exempt from antitrust regulation, and thus, before November 26, 2013, Plaintiffs reasonably considered it to be a competitive industry. Accordingly, a reasonable person under the circumstances would not have been alerted to begin to investigate the legitimacy of the Defendants' Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products prices before November 26, 2013.

223. Plaintiffs and the members of the Classes could not have discovered the alleged contract, conspiracy or combination at an earlier date by the exercise of reasonable diligence because of the deceptive practices and techniques of secrecy employed by the Defendants and their co-conspirators to avoid detection of, and fraudulently conceal, their contract, combination, or conspiracy.

224. Because the alleged conspiracy was both self-concealing and affirmatively concealed by the Defendants and their co-conspirators, Plaintiffs and members of the Classes had no knowledge of the alleged conspiracy, or of any facts or information that would have caused a reasonably diligent person to investigate whether a conspiracy existed, until November 26, 2013, the date that the DOJ publicly announced Defendant Toyo Tire & Rubber Co., Ltd.'s anticipated guilty plea.

225. For these reasons, the statute of limitations applicable to Plaintiffs' and the Classes' claims was tolled and did not begin to run until November 26, 2013.

FIRST CLAIM FOR RELIEF
Violation of Section 1 of the Sherman Act
(on behalf of Plaintiffs and the Nationwide Class)

226. Plaintiffs incorporate by reference the allegations in the preceding paragraphs.

227. The Defendants and unnamed co-conspirators entered into and engaged in a contract, combination, or conspiracy in unreasonable restraint of trade in violation of Section 1 of the Sherman Act (15 U.S.C. § 1).

228. The acts done by the Defendants as part of, and in furtherance of, their and their co-conspirators' contract, combination, or conspiracy were authorized, ordered, or done by their officers, agents, employees, or representatives while actively engaged in the management of their affairs.

229. At least as early as January 2006, and continuing until at least the filing of this Complaint, the exact dates being unknown to Plaintiffs, the Defendants and their co-conspirators entered into a continuing agreement, understanding and conspiracy in restraint of trade to artificially fix, raise, stabilize, and control prices for Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products, thereby creating anticompetitive effects.

230. The anticompetitive acts were intentionally directed at the United States market for Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products and had a substantial and foreseeable effect on interstate commerce by raising and fixing prices for Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products throughout the United States.

231. The conspiratorial acts and combinations have caused unreasonable restraints in the market for Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products.

232. As a result of the Defendants' unlawful conduct, Plaintiffs and other similarly situated indirect purchasers in the Nationwide Class who purchased Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products have been harmed by being forced to pay inflated, supracompetitive prices for Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products.

233. In formulating and carrying out the alleged agreement, understanding and conspiracy, the Defendants and their co-conspirators did those things that they combined and conspired to do, including but not limited to the acts, practices and course of conduct set forth herein.

234. The Defendants' and their co-conspirators' conspiracy had the following effects, among others:

(a) Price competition in the market for Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products has been restrained, suppressed, and/or eliminated in the United States;

(b) Prices for Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products sold by the Defendants and their co-conspirators have been fixed, raised, maintained, and stabilized at artificially high, non-competitive levels throughout the United States; and

(c) Plaintiffs and members of the Nationwide Class who purchased Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products indirectly from the Defendants and their co-conspirators have been deprived of the benefits of free and open competition.

235. Plaintiffs and members of the Nationwide Class have been injured and will continue to be injured in their business and property by paying more for Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products purchased indirectly from the Defendants and their co-conspirators than they would have paid and will pay in the absence of the conspiracy.

236. Plaintiffs and members of the Nationwide Class will continue to be subject to Defendants' price-fixing, bid-rigging, and market allocations, which will deprive Plaintiffs and members of the Nationwide Class of the benefits of free competition, including competitively-priced Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products and vehicles.

237. Plaintiffs and members of the Nationwide Class will continue to lose funds due to overpayment for Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products and vehicles containing Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products because they are required to purchase vehicles and Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products to continue to operate their businesses.

238. Plaintiffs and members of the Nationwide Class continue to purchase vehicles and Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products, on a regular basis.

239. Vehicles and Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products continue to be sold at inflated and supracompetitive prices.

240. Plaintiffs and members of the Nationwide Class will be at the mercy of Defendants' unlawful conduct until the Court orders an injunction.

241. The alleged contract, combination, or conspiracy is a per se violation of the federal antitrust laws.

242. Plaintiffs and members of the Nationwide Class are entitled to an injunction against the Defendants, preventing and restraining the violations alleged herein.

SECOND CLAIM FOR RELIEF
Violation of State Antitrust Statutes
(on behalf of Plaintiffs and the Damages Class)

243. Plaintiffs incorporate by reference the allegations in the preceding paragraphs.

244. From as early as January 2006 until at least the filing of this Complaint, the Defendants and their co-conspirators engaged in a continuing contract, combination or conspiracy with respect to the sale of Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products in unreasonable restraint of trade and commerce and in violation of the various state antitrust statutes set forth below.

245. The contract, combination, or conspiracy consisted of an agreement among the Defendants and their co-conspirators to fix, raise, inflate, stabilize, and/or maintain at artificially supracompetitive levels the prices for Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products and to allocate customers for Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products in the United States.

246. In formulating and effectuating this conspiracy, the Defendants and their co-conspirators performed acts in furtherance of the combination and conspiracy, including:

(a) participating in meetings and conversations among themselves in the United States and elsewhere during which they agreed to price Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products at certain levels, and otherwise to fix, increase, inflate, maintain, or stabilize effective prices paid by Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class with respect to Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products sold in the United States;

(b) The aforesaid violations of Section 16720, California Business and Professions Code, consisted, without limitation, of a continuing unlawful trust and concert of action among the Defendants and their co-conspirators, the substantial terms of which were to fix, raise, maintain, and stabilize the prices of, and to allocate markets for, Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products.

(c) For the purpose of forming and effectuating the unlawful trust, the Defendants and their co-conspirators have done those things which they combined and conspired to do, including but in no way limited to the acts, practices and course of conduct set forth above and the following: (1) Fixing, raising, stabilizing, and pegging the price of Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products; and (2) Allocating among themselves the production of Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products.

(b) This claim is instituted pursuant to Sections 17203 and 17204 of the California Business and Professions Code, to obtain restitution from the Defendants for acts, as alleged herein, that violated Section 17200 of the California Business and Professions Code, commonly known as the Unfair Competition Law.

(c) The Defendants' conduct as alleged herein violated Section 17200. The acts, omissions, misrepresentations, practices and non-disclosures of the Defendants, as alleged herein, constituted a common, continuous, and continuing course of conduct of unfair competition by means of unfair, unlawful, and/or fraudulent business acts or practices within the meaning of California Business and Professions Code, Section 17200, et seq., including, but not limited to, the following: (1) the violations of Section 1 of the Sherman Act, as set forth above; (2) the violations of Section 16720, et seq., of the California Business and Professions Code, set forth above;

(i) The illegal conduct alleged herein is continuing and there is no indication that the Defendants will not continue such activity into the future.

(j) The unlawful and unfair business practices of the Defendants have caused and continue to cause Plaintiffs and the members of the Damages Class to pay supracompetitive and artificially-inflated prices for Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products (or vehicles containing them). Plaintiffs and the members of the Damages Class suffered injury in fact and lost money or property as a result of such unfair competition.

(k) The conduct of the Defendants as alleged in this Complaint violates Section 17200 of the California Business and Professions Code.

(l) As alleged in this Complaint, the Defendants and their co-conspirators have been unjustly enriched as a result of their wrongful conduct and by the Defendants' unfair

Plaintiffs and the members of the Damages Class are accordingly entitled to equitable relief including restitution and/or disgorgement of all revenues, earnings, profits, compensation, and benefits that may have been obtained by the Defendants as a result of such business practices, pursuant to the California Business and Professions Code, Sections 17203 and 17204.

283. The Defendants have engaged in unfair competition or unfair, unconscionable, or deceptive acts or practices in violation of the Florida Deceptive and Unfair Trade Practices Act, Fla. Stat. §§ 501.201, et seq.

284. The Defendants have engaged in unfair competition or unfair, unconscionable, or deceptive acts or practices in violation of the New Mexico Stat. § 57-12-1, et seq.

(a) The Defendants and their co-conspirators agreed to, and did in fact, act in restraint of trade or commerce by affecting, fixing, controlling and/or maintaining at non-competitive and artificially inflated levels, the prices at which Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products were sold, distributed or obtained in New Mexico and took efforts to conceal their agreements from Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class.

285. Plaintiffs were not aware of Defendants' price-fixing conspiracy and were therefore unaware that they were being unfairly and illegally overcharged. There was a gross disparity of bargaining power between the parties with respect to the price charged by Defendants for Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products. Defendants had the sole power to set that price and Plaintiffs had no power to negotiate a lower price. Moreover, Plaintiffs lacked any meaningful choice in purchasing Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products because they were unaware of the unlawful overcharge and because they had to purchase Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products in order to be able to operate their vehicles. Defendants' conduct with regard to sales of Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products, including their illegal conspiracy to secretly fix the price of Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products at supracompetitive levels and overcharge consumers, was substantively unconscionable because it was one-sided and unfairly benefited Defendants at the expense of Plaintiffs and the public. Defendants took grossly unfair advantage of Plaintiffs.

(a) The aforementioned conduct on the part of the Defendants constituted “unconscionable trade practices,” in violation of N.M.S.A. Stat. § 57-12-3, in that such conduct, inter alia, resulted in a gross disparity between the value received by Plaintiffs and the members of the Damages Class and the prices paid by them for Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products as set forth in N.M.S.A., § 57-12-2E due to the inflated prices paid by Plaintiffs and Class members for vehicles and Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products.

(b) The Defendants’ unlawful conduct had the following effects: (1) Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Product price competition was restrained, suppressed, and eliminated throughout New Mexico; (2) Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Product prices were raised, fixed, maintained, and stabilized at artificially high levels throughout New Mexico; (3) Plaintiffs and the members of the Damages Class were deprived of free and open competition; and (4) Plaintiffs and the members of the Damages Class paid supracompetitive, artificially inflated prices for Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products.

(c) During the Class Period, the Defendants’ illegal conduct substantially affected New Mexico commerce and consumers.

(d) As a direct and proximate result of the unlawful conduct of the Defendants, Plaintiffs and the members of the Damages Class have been injured and are threatened with further injury.

(e) The Defendants have engaged in unfair competition or unfair or deceptive acts or practices in violation of New Mexico Stat. § 57-12-1, et seq., and, accordingly, Plaintiffs and the members of the Damages Class seek all relief available under that statute.

(b) Defendants deceptively led purchasers, such as Plaintiffs and Class members, to believe that the Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products they had purchased as replacements and inside vehicles had been sold at legal competitive prices, when they had in fact been sold at collusively obtained inflated prices, that were passed on to them.

(c) The conduct of the Defendants described herein constitutes consumer-oriented deceptive acts or practices within the meaning of N.Y. Gen. Bus. Law § 349, which resulted in injuries to purchasers and broad adverse impact on the public at large, and harmed the public interest of New York State in an honest marketplace in which economic activity is conducted in a competitive manner.

(d) The Defendants' unlawful conduct had the following effects: (1) Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Product price competition was restrained, suppressed, and eliminated throughout New York; (2) Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Product prices were raised, fixed, maintained, and stabilized at artificially high levels throughout New York; (3) Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class, including those who resided in New York and/or purchased Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products or vehicles in New York, were deprived of free and open competition, including in New York; and (4) Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class, including those who resided in New York and/or purchased Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products or vehicles in New York paid supracompetitive, artificially inflated prices for Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products, including in New York.

(e) Because of Defendants' unlawful trade practices in the State of New York, New York purchasers who indirectly purchased Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products were misled to believe that they were paying a fair price for Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products or the price increases for Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products were for valid business reasons; and similarly situated purchasers were affected by Defendants' conspiracy.

(f) During the Class Period, the Defendants' illegal conduct substantially affected New York commerce and New York purchasers.

(g) During the Class Period, the Defendants directly, or indirectly and through affiliates they dominated and controlled, manufactured, sold and/or distributed Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products in New York.

(h) Defendants knew that their unlawful trade practices with respect to pricing Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products would have a broad impact, causing class members who indirectly purchased Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products to be injured by paying more for Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products than they would have paid in the absence of Defendants' unlawful trade acts and practices.

(i) Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class seek all relief available pursuant to N.Y. Gen. Bus. Law § 349 (h).

287. The Defendants have engaged in unfair competition or unfair, unconscionable, or deceptive acts or practices in violation of North Carolina Gen. Stat. § 75-1.1, et seq.

(a) The Defendants and their co-conspirators agreed to, and did in fact, act in restraint of trade or commerce by affecting, fixing, controlling and/or maintaining, at artificial and non-competitive levels, the prices at which Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products were sold, distributed or obtained in North Carolina and took efforts to conceal their agreements from Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class.

(b) The conduct of the Defendants described herein constitutes consumer-oriented deceptive acts or practices within the meaning of North Carolina law, which resulted in injury to purchasers and broad adverse impact on the public at large, and harmed the public interest of North Carolina purchasers in an honest marketplace in which economic activity is conducted in a competitive manner.

(c) The Defendants' unlawful conduct had the following effects: (1) Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Product price competition was restrained, suppressed, and eliminated throughout North Carolina; (2) Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Product prices were raised, fixed, maintained, and stabilized at artificially high levels throughout North Carolina; (3) Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class, including those who resided in North Carolina and/or purchased Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products or vehicles in North Carolina, were deprived of free and open competition, including in North Carolina; and (4) Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class, including those who resided in North Carolina and/or purchased Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products or vehicles in North Carolina paid supracompetitive, artificially inflated prices for Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products, including in North Carolina.

(d) During the Class Period, the Defendants' illegal conduct substantially affected North Carolina commerce and purchasers in North Carolina.

(e) Defendants deceptively concealed their unlawful activities by conducting meetings and conversations in secret.

(f) During the Class Period, the Defendants directly, or indirectly and through affiliates they dominated and controlled, manufactured, sold and/or distributed Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products in North Carolina.

(g) Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class seek actual damages for their injuries caused by these violations in an amount to be determined at trial and are threatened with further injury. The Defendants have engaged in unfair competition or unfair or deceptive acts or practices in violation of North Carolina Gen. Stat. § 75-1.1, et seq., and, accordingly, Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class seek all relief available under that statute.

288. The Defendants have engaged in unfair competition or unfair, unconscionable, or deceptive acts or practices in violation of South Carolina Unfair Trade Practices Act, S.C. Code Ann. §§ 39-5-10, et seq.

(a) The Defendants' combinations or conspiracies had the following effects:

(1) Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Product price competition was restrained, suppressed, and eliminated throughout South Carolina; (2) Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Product prices were raised, fixed, maintained, and stabilized at artificially high levels throughout South Carolina; (3) Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class were deprived of free and open competition; and (4) Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class paid supracompetitive, artificially inflated prices for Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products and vehicles containing Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products.

(b) During the Class Period, the Defendants' illegal conduct had a substantial effect on South Carolina commerce.

(c) As a direct and proximate result of the Defendants' unlawful conduct, Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class have been injured in their business and property and are threatened with further injury.

289. Defendants have engaged in unfair competition or unfair or deceptive acts or practices in violation of S.C. Code Ann. §§ 39-5-10, et seq., and, accordingly, Plaintiffs and the members of the Damages Class seek all relief available under that statute.

290. The Defendants have engaged in unfair competition or unfair, unconscionable, or deceptive acts or practices in violation of 9 Vermont § 2451, et seq.

(a) The Defendants and their co-conspirators agreed to, and did in fact, act in restraint of trade or commerce in a market that includes Vermont by affecting, fixing, controlling, and/or maintaining, at artificial and non-competitive levels, the prices at which Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products were sold, distributed, or obtained in Vermont.

(b) The Defendants deliberately failed to disclose material facts to Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class concerning their unlawful activities and artificially inflated prices for Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products. That loss was caused by the Defendants' willful and deceptive conduct, as described herein.

(e) The Defendants' deception, including their omissions concerning the price of Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products, likely misled all purchasers acting reasonably under the circumstances to believe that they were purchasing Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products at prices born by a free and fair market. The Defendants' misleading conduct and unconscionable activities constitutes unfair competition or unfair or deceptive acts or practices in violation of 9 Vermont § 2451, et seq., and, accordingly, Plaintiffs and members of the Damages Class seek all relief available under that statute.

292. Plaintiffs bring this claim under the laws of all states listed in the Second and Third Claims, supra., except California. Plaintiffs also bring this claim under the laws of Missouri, Massachusetts and Illinois on behalf of the Plaintiffs who have their primary places of business in those three states and the class members in those three states.

293. As a result of their unlawful conduct described above, the Defendants have and will continue to be unjustly enriched. The Defendants have been unjustly enriched by the receipt of, at a minimum, unlawfully inflated prices and unlawful profits on sales of Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products.

294. The Defendants have benefited from their unlawful acts and it would be inequitable for the Defendants to be permitted to retain any of the ill-gotten gains resulting from the overpayments made by Plaintiffs or the members of the Damages Class for Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products.

295. Plaintiffs and the members of the Damages Class are entitled to the amount of the Defendants' ill-gotten gains resulting from their unlawful, unjust, and inequitable conduct. Plaintiffs and the members of the Damages Class are entitled to the establishment of a constructive trust consisting of all ill-gotten gains from which Plaintiffs and the members of the Damages Class may make claims on a pro rata basis.

296. Pursuit of any remedies against the firms from whom Plaintiffs and the Class members purchased vehicles containing Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products and Automotive Constant-Velocity-Joint Boot Products subject to the Defendants' conspiracy would have been futile, given that those firms did not take part in the Defendants' conspiracy.

D. Plaintiffs and the members of the Damages Class recover damages, to the maximum extent allowed by such laws, in the form of restitution and/or disgorgement of profits unlawfully gained from them;

E. The Defendants, their affiliates, successors, transferees, assignees and other officers, directors, partners, agents and employees thereof, and all other persons acting or claiming to act on their behalf or in concert with them, be permanently enjoined and restrained from in any manner continuing, maintaining or renewing the conduct, contract, conspiracy, or combination alleged herein, or from entering into any other contract, conspiracy, or combination having a similar purpose or effect, and from adopting or following any practice, plan, program, or device having a similar purpose or effect;

F. Plaintiffs and the members of the Damages Class be awarded restitution, including disgorgement of profits the Defendants obtained as a result of their acts of unfair competition and unjust enrichment;

G. Plaintiffs and the members of the Classes be awarded pre- and post- judgment interest as provided by law, and that such interest be awarded at the highest legal rate from and after the date of service of this Complaint;

H. Plaintiffs and the members of the Classes recover their costs of suit, including reasonable attorneys' fees, as provided by law; and

I. Plaintiffs and members of the Classes have such other and further relief as the case may require and the Court may deem just and proper.

JURY DEMAND

Plaintiffs demand a trial by jury, pursuant to Rule 38(b) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, of all issues so triable.
